

STAT

ARTICLE APPEARED
ON PAGE 14

THE TRIB
14 FEBRUARY 1978

SECRET AGENT: Former CIA Director William Colby was spotted recently slipping into a Washington subway car, sitting alone with a folder cracked open just enough for him to read its contents. Rubbernecking passengers finally caught a glimpse of what the ex-superspook was peeking at. Still-sensitive reports? No, a newsmagazine article about CIA Director Stansfield Turner.

—Scripps-Howard News Service